DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. Claims 1, 2, 6-12, 14, 16, 18-20 and 26-29 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 16-21 of copending Application No. 10/825303. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the present claims overlap and are fully encompassed by the allowed claims of the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 6-12, 14, 16, 18-20, and 26-29 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yoshio (JP 05-070268).

4. As an initial matter, the Examiner notes that all references herein to Yoshio are directed to the abstract and information obtained during an oral translation. The Examiner has ordered a translation of Yoshio and it will be forwarded to applicant in due course.

Art Unit: 1775

5. Yoshio teaches articles comprising a carbon substrate coated with a first layer comprising a metal, e.g., Mo, Cr, Ti, or W, as presently claimed (abstract). Moreover, Yoshio teaches that the metal containing layer may be coated with other materials. An oral translation of Yoshio indicates that the other material may be formed of metal oxides as recited in the present claims. Accordingly, it is the Examiner's position that the present claims are anticipated by Yoshio.

Conclusion

6. Rejections made in the previous Office Action, but not repeated herein are withdrawn in view of applicant's response filed 02/06/07.
